

Legal Shots

New communication duty to the Supervisory Authority for the Labour Conditions

The communication duty encompasses the caregiver employee.

The communication to the Supervisory Authority for the Labour Conditions of the termination of an employment contract during the probationary period will now include caregiver employees, along with pregnant employees, those who have recently given birth or are breastfeeding, or on parental leave.

Meet our Team:

