

Legal Shots

Entry into force of the amendments to employment legislation

Changes to employment legislation were published today.

Law no. 13/2023 was published today and most of the amendments to the Labour Code and to other employment legislation will come into force on 1 May.

However, there are a few exceptions, regarding collective bargaining agreements, namely their termination and expiry, which enter into force tomorrow, 4 April.

