SRS Legal has appointed María de Lancastre Valente (pictured) as its new director of people and culture, which replaces the firm's Human Resources area.

With over 21 years of experience advising on employment law, Maria de Lancastre Valente has solid experience particularly in the context of multinational corporations and international law firms.

"I am extremely proud, happy and motivated by this professional shift to , after more than two decades as a lawyer specialising in employment law, and as a partner of SRS Legal. The legal market is going through a rich and dynamic period; being able to offer and put my experience and acquired skills at the service of the reinforcement of SRS Legal's People strategy makes perfect sense. My ambition is to bring our people closer to the business and the business closer to our people," said the new director.
